Payment Policy

Payment for a 10 week series of group classes is due in full at the end of the first class. There are several ways that you can pay:

- In full with check or cash. This will entitle you to the five dollar per class cash discount. This will bring your total due to $400.
- Partial payment with check or cash. This will still entitle you to the five dollar per class cash discount. A check or cash for $200 will be due at the end of the first class. A check post dated for one month later for the remaining $200 balance will also be given at that time.
- Payment in full using a credit card. This will not entitle you to the five dollar per class cash discount. Payments of $450 can be made through PayPal.

Payments for one-on-one classes for Basic or Advanced Good Manners are paid in the same manner as a group class. There are several ways you can pay:

- In full check or cash. This will entitle you to the five dollar per class cash discount. This will bring your total due to $450.
- Partial payment with check or cash. This will still entitle you to the five dollar per class cash discount. A check or cash of $225 will be due at the end of the first class. A check post dated for one month later for the remaining $225 balance will also be given at that time.
- Payment in full using a credit card. This will not entitle you to the five dollar per class cash discount. Payments of $500 can be made through PayPal.

Payments for one-on-one classes for troubleshooting specific problem areas can be paid on a per class basis. The cash discount still applies to payments made with cash or check. Payments can also be made using PayPal, but the cash discount will not apply.

Cancellation Policy

EQuality Dog Training requires a 24 hour cancellation notice if you cannot make a class for some reason. If you are unable to give a 24-hour notice you will be expected to pay for that class. No exceptions!
